This is TechnischeTools.co's Privacy Statement, in which we describe what information is collected, how it is collected, how it is used, how we store it, for how long, in accordance with applicable data protection and privacy laws.

Why do we collect information from our users?

1. To control and fulfill the subscription agreements between the user and TechnischeTools.co;
2. To promote safety improvements in our applications;
3. To provide a professionally exciting, efficient and effective experience;
4. For continuous improvement of the collaboration between the user and TechnischeTools.co;
5. For other purposes cited in this document.

Information we collect from our users

1. Data entered by the user when registering, namely:
   a) Name you want to be called
   b) Email address
   c) Country
   d) Hash code of the entered password
2. IP address (Internet Protocol address), date and time of user session;
3. Data for billing when the user makes a purchase.

How our users' information is collected

This information is collected when entered and sent by the user.

We do not use any other form of information collection, either indirectly or by third parties.

How we use information from our users

The information is used in the following situations:

1. Application access checks;

2. In trade matters;

3. In financial and administrative matters;

4. In analyzing data to improve our services and applications;

5. To identify and prevent failures in our servers, services and applications;

6. For the sending of informative communications on maintenance of the applications, new applications, news, new versions and services.

How we store our users' information

The information of our users and the infrastructure of servers used by TechnischeTools.co are stored on third party secure servers in the United States of America.

The servers are accessed only by encrypted means, with a unique "security key" and only by two authorized persons at TechnischeTools.co. These accesses occur in a planned way, for maintenance, improvement of the applications and improvement of the network of servers.

TechnischeTools.co sites use SSL (Secure Socket Layer) security technology that creates an encrypted channel between a web server (TechnischeTools.co servers) and a browser (user's browser). This ensures a "single tunnel" that allows for confidentiality and security in the transmitted data.

The information of the users is never shared with third parties, except with competent authority when officially required by law or in response to the request of legal authority.

Disclaimer of liability

It is important to note that, even with all the security procedures performed by TechnischeTools.co, there is no guarantee of 100% security in the data that travels through the Internet. In this way TechnischeTools.co disclaims of liability for the information transmitted by users.

For how long our users' information is saved

The personal information of the users will be stored for the time that is necessary for the correct provision of the services related to the applications and for the fulfillment of legal obligations.

Users who fail to access applications for more than 12 (twelve) months may have their data deleted automatically.

Corporate actions and our users' information

If there is a merger, incorporation, spin-off, sale or restructuring of part or all of TechnischeTools.co with another company, the transfer of our database, with the users' information, to the new shareholder may occur.

Privacy Policy Update

To ensure compliance with the legal requirements we will review, when necessary, our privacy policy.

We will also review in cases where, due to the need to improve our services, we have to add new rules regarding our Privacy Policy.

In all cases we will send a notification about the modifications of our Privacy Policy.
